Hope East Indies Can Now Aid In World Recovery

Settlement Of Netherlands East Indies Dispute May Aid European Sit- uation

EXPECT SHIPMENTS TO BE RESUMED

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—Settlement of the long and bitter Netherlands East Indies dispute raised hope among administration officials today that the important islands may contribute substantially to the European recovery program.

The rich Indies have been a substantial element in the economy of the world and their shutting off has been a factor in limiting world recovery. Officials working on the ERP often have expressed the hope that world trade generally might soon receive the benefits of the Indies' contribution.

Trade Has Been Cut Off

This trade has been cut off almost completely since the collapse of Japan. Local political disturbances, reportedly fostered to some extent by Communists, have barred to the world access to rich stocks of essential raw materials badly needed elsewhere.

The included primarily rice, sugar and rubber. To a lesser extent tin and quinine were also involved. The stockpiles of these materials were accumulated during the period of Japanese occupation. Japan, while badly needing them herself, was unable to move them because of the United States blockade of shipping.

Held Control Of Supplies

After the war, Indonesian independence, fighting for home rule, managed to move some of the goods to finance their own operations. While ownership rested mostly with Dutchmen, the Indonesian nationalists held control of the supplies.

As a result the Netherlands government imposed a strict blockade of its own to prevent the Revolutionaries from financing their battle at the expense of the Dutch owners. World trade suffered.

Now, it is believed, United States purchases of essential raw materials will provide a supply of dollars which will contribute to meeting the present shortage. The goods will also be available to nations needing them for their domestic needs.

Pa New Observes

Residents who have been trying for the past few days to get the fast-eluding ice and snow from their sidewalks will have opportunity to do so now, with the milder weather occurring aiding much in the removal work.

According to a news item from Altoona, a new use has been discovered for the parking meters. The report says that the parking meters are to be used for dropping in dimes to aid the infantile paralysis "March of Dimes" campaign.

Under an ordinance recently passed in South New Castle borough, provision is made for paying council men $5 per month compensation, providing they attend at least one meeting during the month.

Union high school football field will be fenced in next season, it is indicated. Bids are being asked for by the school board for erection of a fence around the field.

That the southeast felt the recent cold spell as well as the North is evident from a brief note from James P. Caldwell, News "machine editor," who is journeying for the winter at St. Petersburg, Fla. The former News man relates: "We are having a rather severe cold spell here, the mercury in St. Pete having been down to

County Bridge Job Begun By Franklin Construction Men

Announcement was made this morning by Fred Martin, superintendent of the Lawrence county department of highways, that construction has been begun by the H. T. Osburn and Co., Inc., of Franklin on the bridge over the Slippery Rock creek in Wayne and Perry townships.

The firm, which bid $85,388 for the job, will construct a new bridge over the creek and build 99 of a mile of approaches on rural route 37053, which traverses both townships.

The bridge involved is to replace one that collapsed about three years ago when a heavy truck attempted to traverse the structure with a load of material beyond the legal load limit. Since that time residents of the area have had to make a wide detour to get to their destination.

Missing Hollywood Girl Found In San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 21.—(INS)—Jacqueline Horner, 14-year-old Hollywood child prodigy pianist, missing from her home for a week, was found alive and safe in a San Francisco hotel early today.

The young stage and screen musician was discovered at the Clinton Hotel at Van Ness Avenue and O'Farrell Street by police who broke down the door of the hotel room.

A sailor was found with her in the room.

The police acted on a tip supplied by a San Francisco woman night club photographer with whom Jacqueline had struck up a friendship while on a bus trip from Los Angeles.

The girl pianist, who said she had run away from home, was taken first to the Hall of Justice, then to the Juvenile Detention Home, while her mother in Hollywood was being notified.

The sailor, identified by the authorities as Seaman Second Class Wally Wells, 19, of San Francisco, was arrested and booked on a charge of contributing to the delinquency of a minor.

Police said his parents are believed to be Mr. and Mrs. George Wells, living only four doors from the hotel where Jacqueline and the sailor were found. Young Wells is attached to the USS Cimarron at the Hunters Point Naval Shipyard in San Francisco.

Jacqueline, whose disappearance caused kidnap and murder scares, told police she ran away from her Hollywood home Tuesday, Jan. 13, after a quarrel with her mother, Mrs. Clara Horner, and other members of the household. The brilliant young pianist said:

"They called me a brat around the house and made me practice the piano eight hours a day."

Police Inspector Dan Shelley quoted the child as saying:

By ALKAIOS ANGELOPOULOS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

FILATHES, Greece, Jan. 21.—A hitherto undisclosed chapter of the "little war" in northern Greece—the alleged enslavement of hundreds of Greek peasant girls by communist guerrilla forces—was reported today during a tour of areas close to the Epirus battle-line.

Thousands of others claim to have fled from farms and isolated villages in terror of being captured.

They have taken refuge in the larger towns such as Ioannina, Arta and Paramythia. But some girls apparently have joined the guerrillas of their own volition.

According to on-the-spot estimates, over one thousand women and girls between the ages of 17 and 25 have during the last two months been carried off by Markos' guerrillas.

Pauley To Make Vigorous Battle

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(INS)—Edwin W. Pauley was reported today to be mapping a vigorous fight Friday when he goes before Senate speculation investigators in a joint appearance with his leading critic, Harold E. Stassen.

An informed source said that Pauley—who visited Capitol Hill Tuesday—is ready to "take the offensive" with a strongly-worded demand that the subcommittee vindicate him of accusations that he tampered on commodities with inside information about what the government was going to buy.

War Veterans Favor Marshall Plan Adoption

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(INS)

The American Legion and the Veterans of Foreign Wars warned Congress today that the Marshall plan must be approved to stop the aggressive "Red tide" of Communism and prevent possible Russian atomic bomb attacks on the United States.

The two organizations, with a combined membership of 5,572,000, told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in prepared statements that the program is necessary to safeguard the future peace and security of the United States.

National Commander James F. O'Neil of the American Legion declared that cost of the European recovery program is "very small" compared to the cost of war and involves "a reasonable assessment each citizen can and should bear for the prevention of war."

O'Neil asserted that the danger of such failure to implement the program would create "a not only solely long-range but could raise acutely even within one year."

The 47-year-old hiker who started from Ellensburg, July 4, 1946, and since has pushed his radio-equipped wheelbarrow 6,037 miles through 12 states, stopped to rest in Chicago yesterday.

His aim is to "spread loyalty for America to people everywhere." His motto, he says, is "let-foot" for this far he has worn out 10 pairs of shoes and 336 pairs of socks and a set of rubber tires on his wheelbarrow.

Start Campaign To Force Payment Of City Personal Taxes

The demands for payment will be served by policemen within the next several days. Notices already have gone out to delinquents of the second ward. Persons who are not able to pay immediately can make arrangements for time payments at the solicitor's office, it is stated.

Washington Has Waterfront Fire

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(INS)—A general alarm fire gutted three warehouses early today near the Potomac river waterfront.

One of the buildings served as an automotive and lumber warehouse for the U. S. Marine Corps. Another was said to have held state department articles.

Approximately 50 pieces of fire apparatus, including a fire boat, were summoned to the spectacular early morning blaze which was brought under control several hours after its outbreak.

Plane Plunges Into Snowbank; 24 Escape Death

BOSTON, Jan. 21.—(INS)—A giant four-motored constellation airliner burst into flames today after landing at Logan International Airport but all aboard—19 passengers and five crew members—escaped with their lives.

Eight passengers were injured, the most serious of which was a broken leg suffered by one of the four women aboard.

Plunges Into Snowbank
The big Eastern Airliner, bound from Miami to Newark, made a perfect landing on the hard surface of the runway, traveled about 300 feet, began to slide on the snow-covered surface, went out of control, and plunged into a seven foot snowbank.

The plane, traveling at approximately 60 miles an hour, struck the bank with such terrific force that the No. 4 motor was sheared off. This apparently started the fire.

Passengers Leap Out
Smoke began to pour from the forward part of the ship, but within half a minute flames broke through into the plane. Passengers ran for the rear exit, which had been opened, and some leaped 30 feet to the runway.

The plane was piloted by Capt. Merrill Thayer, of Miami, Fla., who ordered an instrument landing because of the low ceiling and poor visibility, due to the storm.

Report 700 Arabs Launch Attack

British Troops Rushed To Colony Of Yehlam In Northern Palestine

JERUSALEM, Jan. 21.—(INS)—British troops rushed to the isolated Colony of Yehlam in northern Palestine today following reports that 700 uniformed Arabs have launched a new attack.

The Arabs, who yesterday killed four Jews and wounded eight others at the settlement before they were driven off by the British, were reported to be "foreign led."

Both sides were said to have suffered heavy casualties before the arrival of British troops. Mortars and machine guns were used by both attackers and defenders.

Settlement Attacked
The Arabs, who apparently intend to wipe out the year-old settlement attempted to isolate the battlefield by blowing up bridges and culverts over which reinforcements would have to pass.

Mr. Truman's plan to build a back porch to the south portico, the House appropriations committee chairman remarked:

"I'm against it and I'm going to see if we can't put a stop to it."

Mr. Truman recently stated that despite the controversy raised by his disclosure, he is going ahead with his plan to build a second floor balcony on which White House occupants might relax in private during the hot summer months.

The balcony would be just outside Mr. Truman's bedroom and study and screened by a three-foot iron railing.

Report Belgian King To Renounce Throne For Son

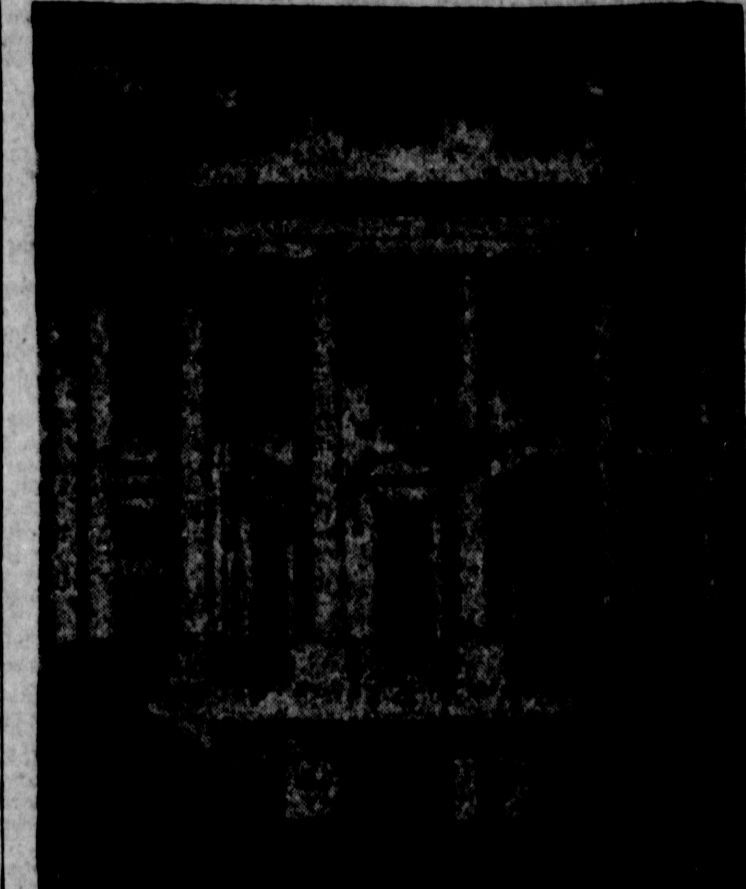

(BULLETIN)

GENEVA, Jan. 21.—(INS)—A member of the royal household of exiled King Leopold of Belgium said today that the king has agreed to renounce the throne in favor of his son, Prince Baudouin.

The king was said to have reached an agreement with Belgian Premier Paul Henri Spak in a Geneva meeting Sunday.

Unpaid personal taxes was the subject of discussion in Council meeting several days ago. The Mayor and colleagues expressed the opinion that it was unfair for some to pay and others escape payment, hence orders were given Solicitor White to use the authority of law to collect the taxes, and to make arrests if needed.

Despite disapproval of the Fine Arts commission and other groups, President Truman apparently is going ahead with his intention of adding a balcony to the south portico of the White House. Photo shows scaffolding and what appears to be two holes (arrows) in outside wall to support a balcony.

Committee Of House Ready To Give Report

Knutson Asserts Measure Will Be Passed With Five And Half Bil- lion Out

MEASURE SOON TO COME UP IN HOUSE

(BULLETIN)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(INS)—The House Ways and Means Committee this afternoon postponed until next week, action on the Knutson bill to cut income taxes $5 billion dollars a year.

House and Senate Republican leaders, however, prepared to consider the whole budget and tax problem at a special policy meeting this afternoon.

By RAYMOND WELCH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.

—Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., termed unwarranted GOP proposals to cut his five billion 600 million dollar tax reduction bill as the House Ways and Means Committee met today to report out the legislation.

The committee chairman predicted that his group will approve the measure substantially without change this afternoon.

With House passage of the bill in its present form virtually assured next week, Knutson took cognizance of reports that the Senate would reduce the amount of the tax cut to four and a half billion dollars.

Knutson said he would not accept a reduction to four billion.

Petrillo Heard By Congressmen

Testifies Before House Labor Committee On Monopoly Ban On Recordings

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(INS)—James C. Petrillo, boss of the American Federation of Musicians, testified today that it makes no difference to him whether he makes recordings or not.

Petrillo, whose recent offer to lead the making of records in the country "revolver," asserted that the average pay desired by musicians for recordings is only $400 a year.

He testified before the House labor committee that:

"The income of musicians from recordings is all. It doesn't make much difference to the musician, as no one is taking his livelihood."

Petrillo faced testimony of union pictures and testimony concerning his testimony before the committee. Photographers practically surrounded him.

Large Crowd Present
Several hundred spectators were present in the old house chamber where, last year, under similar Hollywood settings, the American Federation of Musicians testified before the Senate labor committee.

Petrillo's words were recorded on wire tape, his voice went out over the radio, and the proceedings were televised.

Petrillo termed record making "the poorest class of business in the music industry."

His assertion was in response to a query by Rep. Hiram Boren, chairman of the committee, who reported that 15 tons of records were flown into this country last week and that still more records are being brought in by boat.

The winter has been a hard one, with the sharp cold and heavy snow. The white at least, they say, is a relief. There are some who say that the snow is a blessing, as it keeps the roads from being too muddy. Others say that it is a curse, as it makes it so difficult to get around. The weather is a mystery, and we must wait and see what the future holds.

U.S. Can't Go On Hating Russia Without Fuss

Washington, Jan. 21.—(INS)—Sen. George (D) Ga., asserted today that the American people cannot go on "hating Russia" during four years of the Marshall plan "without starting a fuss with them."

George told the senate foreign relations committee that the European recovery program is "bound to be a failure" if it is built solely on "fear of Russia" and cautioned against overemphasis on that aspect of the project.

The senator's impromptu remarks came as Secretary of the Treasury Snyder, on the other side of the Capitol, declared that new American loans to stabilize currency of Marshall plan countries will be necessary "probably in 1949."

Louisiana Race For Nomination For Governor Close

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 21.—(INS)—Two former Louisiana governors were in a neck-and-neck race today for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Returns from yesterday's primary election, which virtually assured the high man of winning the governorship, gave Earl K. Long a lead of some 3,000 votes over Sam Jones, his nearest rival.

Tallies from 539 of the state's 1,978 precincts gave Long 60,000 votes and Jones 57,715.

Two other candidates trailed far behind. They are U. S. Congressman James H. Morrison and Judge Robert E. Brown of the circuit court of appeals.

"I had made up my mind to run away."

"I was just sick of the way I was treated in home, and if mother takes me back, I'll run away."

"I could never play with the other kids because they were afraid I might hurt my hands. I could never go swimming because they thought the water would injure my ears and spoil my sense of musical hearing."

"I always had to go to bed early."

"I was always exhibited like a trained animal."

"I couldn't even go to school with the other kids. The only people I ever saw were my music teachers—three of them."

Shelley said she told him that she had "supported" her mother since she was five years old.

Jacqueline stoutly denied that she had been intimate with Wells.

Their role is to arouse the fighting spirit and rivalry among the troops.

Presbytery Plans Seminar In City

Learn That Shenango Presbytery Has Pledged $99,425 Or 52% Of Restoration Goal

Shenango Presbytery concluded its first session for 1948 Monday afternoon in the First Presbyterian church, North Jefferson street, to meet again on April 30 in the Bessemer Presbyterian church with Rev. Chester Crabb as host.

Monday's session opened with a period of devotion with Rev. E. R. Tait of Pulaski leading in prayer. At the conclusion of the devotional period the group launched into the business of the day, with the moderator of the Presbytery directing. First business at hand was the reading of the letter of dismission for Rev. Robert Bell from Beaver Presbytery to Shenango Presbytery, with dismission accepted. Rev. Loy Sumner, at his request, was transferred to the Southeast Florida Presbytery.

Foreign missions were discussed by Rev. Chester Crabb of Bessemer, with reports heard from the United promotion committee and remarks concerning the new Presbyterian Life magazine.

A Presbyterian seminar is planned for New Castle, to take place on February 5 and 6, when ministers of the area will be present to discuss issues vital to the Presbyterian church. Decision was made to keep the pro-rata assessment at 16 1/2 cents per member during the year.

Restoration Fund

Report on the restoration fund was made by Rev. David Spratt of the Carlisle Presbytery. He gave a report on what is being done about the fund now. Decision has been to accept payments over the next several years. It was learned that Shenango Presbytery has pledged $99,425 of its $112,907 quota, or 88 per cent of the goal. Already 75 per cent has been paid into the treasury.

Dorris Fulman was appointed as a representative to council for Presbyterians men. The national missions report was made by Rev. W. L. Wishart of Sharon. Decision was made to assist one church in the purchase of a property from the fund.

Plans were laid by the Presbytery to conduct a new life training school in New Castle some time the middle of February. Rev. Oliver Stang of Ellwood City made the new life report. Only two churches in the area were without permanent pastors, they being Unity and Harrisburg churches.

During the noon recess the ministers were served lunch in the church dining room.

Guild Will Elect Officers-Directors

Officers and directors of the Metropolitan Concert Guild will be elected tonight, when the guild holds its annual meeting in The Castleton hotel. A dinner will be served at 6:30, followed by the business meeting.

President Lewis J. Lewis has asked for a full representation of the board.

notiate what the Senate would do.

Asked whether he thought such a cut in the amount was warranted, he replied:

"No, I do not."

The Republican tax leader took occasion also to answer Rep. Rayburn (D) Tex., House minority leader and former speaker, who commented that "That bill never will become law and the Republicans know it."

Knutsen retorted:

"He's indulging in wishful thinking. That bill will become law."

The House Republican Steering Committee, meeting under the chairman of Martin, has placed its stamp of approval on the Knutsen bill "as is."

The speaker revealed that the 22-member group, which decides legislative policy in the House, also discussed a cut of "better than" one and one half billion dollars in the president's thirty nine billion 700 million dollar budget for the 1949 fiscal year.

To Set Ceiling On Expenses

The 102-member joint House-Senate budget committee meets tomorrow to discuss setting a ceiling on government expenditures for the new fiscal year beginning July 1. Under the reorganization act, the committee must report its recommendation by Feb. 15. Congress was unable to reach a decision last year.

Little John Reynolds, Jr., who was fatally burned in a fire at his home near Duncannon, Pa., Monday, was a nephew of John C. Reynolds, George Reynolds, William Reynolds, Mrs. Fred Sages and Mrs. Ann Moyer, all of this city, it was learned today.

An overheated coal stove was blamed for the blaze that burned the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds, Sr., while they were visiting neighbors.

Keeping Funeral Costs Out of Inflation...

One of the things that always is a foremost consideration at the Boyd Home for Funerals is to keep cost down to a level every family can afford.

In these days that is no easy task. Items used in funeral service have been caught in the same price spiral that affects everything else. It is only by careful, personal attention in the buying of merchandise that we have been able to keep our own prices on a fairly even keel.

The management of the Boyd Home for Funerals invites your investigation of our ability to serve at fair prices—even in today's market.

GAUGING WEAPONS

How does man's conception of the power of destructive weapons he has invented stack up with his beliefs prior to World War II? The degree of accuracy military men have obtained is of great interest to the civil population.

For years prior to World War II it was held that another war could last only a few days during which all the cities would be destroyed. The war in Spain developed the conception of bombing power. It was proved that a people did not surrender when a city was hammered to pieces and that bombers were little more than long-range artillery. A long bitter war was fought, upsetting many calculations.

Now comes the President's air policy commission with a declaration that the nation must be ready by 1953.

Atomic power is the great fear. People have heard of little else since Hiroshima, and the vision of planes sweeping over the land to obliterate the cities of the nation in one night does not die. Guided missiles also are feared, for they might cross oceans and dump their deadly atomic loads.

Measures of meeting the threat are not revealed, but there are many persons who hold there is no defense.

Germ war probably is not as great a threat. Germs, like gas, hit the attacker as well as the defender.

As in the days before the bomber was tested, no one knows what the effect of atomic weapons used in profusion would be. There is no alternative to maintenance of a strong air force and concentration on invention of both offensive and defensive weapons.

CHECKER BOARD MOVE

No matter what anybody in Washington or London says, the Soviet will not be pleased by the reopening of a strategic American air base at Mellaha near Tripoli and the transfer of 70,000 British troops from Palestine to Cyprus.

The moves may be merely part of the "propaganda war" against Russian moves in the Balkans and the threat of the emergence of a separate communist state in Greece, but to the Russian military mind they will appear highly significant.

The island of Cyprus commands the far eastern Mediterranean and the entrance to the Suez Canal, and to the north and east lie Turkey, the Levant and crucial Iran.

The base at Mellaha commands the central and eastern Mediterranean. Italy, Yugoslavia, Albania, Bulgaria, Greece are all within 900 miles—child's play for a B-29.

This is not new territory for the United States. The Marines landed on the shores of Tripoli 142 years ago to wipe out some pirates. The entire Mediterranean was an Allied battleground during World War II and today task forces of the U. S. Navy roam its waters.

Those naval maneuvers already have drawn sharp propaganda fire from Moscow's radio batteries, and these latest moves will not have the effect of inducing them to lower their rate of fire.

While we push around the pawns on the cold war checker board, we should not neglect the propaganda theater. The Russian people built up a reservoir of good will of sorts toward America during the war, but the Soviet rulers are doing all they can to drain it off. Steps like these can make it much easier for them. Let's hope our leaders are not neglecting to explain to the Russian people the yearning for peace that underlies our tactical maneuvering.

LISTEN HERE, IVAN

Moscow, whose Hooperating and veracity curves are as far apart as Archangel and Okhotsk, turned loose a little propaganda the other day to the effect that a Baku schoolboy had kept his rubber band-driven model airplane in the air for three minutes and three seconds, "nearly twice as long as the model of the American schoolboy who held the world record previously."

On the basis of information from Edward Manulkin of Philadelphia, a model enthusiast for 20 years, it becomes necessary to challenge that claim. Manulkin deposes as follows:

"In 1936, at New Brunswick, N. J., a U. S. model plane powered by rubber bands, stayed aloft for 41 minutes. The present world full-power indoor record, set in a dirigible hangar at Lakehurst, is 27 minutes and four seconds. Anybody can build a plane that will stay up for five or 10 minutes. The present U. S. official outdoor record is around 50 or 60 minutes."

We hope the lad who gave Moscow radio that hamster loses his Order of Lenin. So does Manulkin. His father, who used to fight for the czar, left Russia a long time ago.

It is reported that the administration at Washington declined to submit to Congress details of past and prospective shipment of certain goods to Russia by American producers on the ground that it would be damaging to public interest. But they didn't say which public.

If jaw movement controls facial beauty, as a scientist says, why aren't politicians more handsome?

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. Ostreicher, INS Foreign Director

A new appraisal of American responsibilities in a war-devastated world was offered for consideration by a realistic humanitarian who has seen life at its best and at its seamy worst.

It came from Francis D. Sayre, president of the United Nations Trusteeship Council, who said flatly and simply that if American food and money are withheld from the glass-eyed undernourished children of Europe and Asia, the new generation will be one of chaos and disaster.

A son-in-law of the late President Wilson, a man of great culture and learning, reared in an atmosphere of scholastic gentility, Sayre's public career threw him at middle age into the turbulence of modern warfare.

Saw Evil Origins

He saw its evil origins while serving as high commissioner in the Philippines and witnessed its crippling after-effects as diplomatic adviser to UNRRA in the days when that organization was striving to restore some order to the bomb-jumbled wreckage of Europe.

His plea for the Marshall Plan struck at the kernel of the problem in just the same manner that it has struck the most inexperienced unsophisticated traveler to Europe throughout the post-war years.

The average American visiting Germany these days is not inclined to have much pity for the grown folks despite all their admitted hardships.

They Asked For It

There are still so many relics of Nazi wealth and pomposity scattered around that the usual reaction is: "Well, they asked for it."

But as regards the children, it is a different matter. The visitor keeps wondering what will be the heritage of the rickets, the semistarvation, the distended stomachs, the yellow gray complexion and the strange rickets that pucker the faces of five-year-olds.

One unfortunate factor that Sayre did not mention in so many words is that while these children seemingly have nothing to look forward to, they can always look back.

In this connection, the German has been a photography fiend ever since the camera was invented and it is a safe assumption that the family albums were preserved with loving care throughout the bombings.

What they show is hardly good democratic indoctrination for starving children. There is older Brother Hans, who died at Stalingrad, in the fine black wool Hitler Jugend uniform that the Nazi gave him, warm as toast.

There is Sister Lisa at a gay fire-light picnic in Bavaria. Perhaps even proud papa raising his arm in the Hitler salute out over a fatherly bay-window well-stuffed with sauerbraten, noodles, rich bread, strong cheese and foamy beer.

How many millions of Little Ernests must hearing that sinister old refrain: "Those were the good old days."

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

WHEN ONE SUBJECT

IS DIFFICULT
Some children find all book learning difficult. But some other children who get on well in most school subjects have serious trouble over a particular subject.

In the light of scientific studies and common sense, any child who succeeds in most school subjects can, barring sensory defects as in hearing or vision, make reasonable progress in another subject. If given the proper guidance and emotional atmosphere at home and school.

Arithmetic Problem

"Of a boy, ten, his mother writes: 'The problem is arithmetic. He hates it and will not study at it. His teacher and I are trying to help him but we can't get anywhere. His teacher tells me he is very good in everything else, but when it is time for arithmetic, my son gets sick. One time he has a headache, at another time his throat hurts or his eyes bother him. I took him to our doctor and he said he had no physical ills or defects. When his teacher gives him home work the whole time he is doing it he is crying and telling me he hates school and his teacher. Please help us, using the enclosed stamped envelope.'"

My reply was about like this: That lad is truly pathetic. Do try to find a way to bring him some hope. It all seems so hard to him that he is in despair over ever learning to do arithmetic.

With the aid of the teacher try to find a way to help the lad discover that he can enjoy success with numbers. Go back and back till you come to where he can work at easy numbers well. Then you will find out what earlier skills with numbers he has failed to master.

In his regular work now he is expected to do hard addition, hard subtraction or multiplication. He can't. The chances are he has never learned accurately by heart even the basic addition and subtraction facts. (He probably thinks there are a million of them. I did at his age). There are only 100 of each. Perhaps he still must count when he adds or subtracts. If he does, or merely guesses, add or subtracting will seem utterly hopeless to him.

Speed Tests

What may pile up his miseries still more is his inability to work fast (he can't when he must count), especially if there are the barbarous speed tests at school.

I am enclosing my "Home Helps in Arithmetic." In it are the basic addition and subtraction facts. In a few minutes you can ascertain which of them he knows by heart. Of those he does not know copy four of five, one to a card (which you can make), for him to memorize each evening. Encourage him to work very slowly and carefully, being very serene and lovely as you help him. Don't have him begin on the subtraction facts until after he has mastered all the addition ones, which may take a few weeks.

Tell the teacher I beg of her to give your son no more home work until he has all these facts memorized. Have him work for only about 20 minutes at a stretch, then relax for a few minutes before resuming work. I hope you can manage your own emotions well.

Bible Thought

My covenant will I not break, nor alter the thing that is gone out of my lips.—Psalm 89:34.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

It seems that everyone is always talking about this campaign or that . . . nine times out of ten the campaign they talk about is very worthy . . . and eight out of those nine campaigns usually take money to put 'em over . . . right now we would like to call your attention to a campaign that is very worthy . . . and it will not cost you one red, white or blue cent . . . It's free and all anyone has to do is take time to investigate.

And when we say investigate we don't mean that you have to turn Sherlock. No indeed . . . but we want a few steps . . . a few steps from the main street . . . East Washington Street . . . Everyone knows where the Pennsylvania Power Company collects their monthly bills . . . a nice comfortable building with plenty of lobby space . . . In this lobby you will find a machine that will test your driving ability . . . On the front page of Tuesday's News was a picture of this machine . . . It really is an education to find out just how fast a driver's reaction is . . . The McBride-Shannon Company, The Power Company and the New Castle News are working together . . . attempting to bring to New Castle the idea that all motor car operators should know more about driving . . . which in turn will reduce accidents.

It has been found that high school students have better reaction time than some of the so-called better driving adults . . . although we do have in New Castle some mighty quick adults . . . It's fun and it's educational to test yourself on what is called a Driverometer. And remember there is no embarrassment or obligation on anyone's part . . . this campaign is absolutely free.

Incidentally . . . one of the best scores to be made so far this week on the Driverometer was made by a member of the New Castle Police Force . . . Lt. George Kennedy . . . Now we know Lt. Kennedy, he is definitely an adult and we say with all respect to the gentleman . . . that if our reaction timing is as accurate when we attain the Lieutenants age we will be happy.

"Ya Can't Let Him Run Away!"

Washington Calling

(By MARQUIS CHILDS)

U. S. Economy Strength Big Factor

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—In the midst of the political contest over tax reduction, Bernard M. Baruch has uttered some sobering common sense. It should make even the political fishermen baiting their hooks for the election next November stop and reconsider.

To begin with, Baruch is opposed to any tax reduction for two years. But he would go further than that and restore half of the wartime excess-profits tax. To compensate somewhat for this move, he would allow industry to write off the cost of new plant, for tax purposes, at the accelerated wartime rate.

The Republicans are trying to persuade enough Democrats to go along with the Knutson tax cut so that it can be passed over President Truman's veto. Therefore, instead of the $5,600,000,000 cut proposed by the Knutson bill in the House, the final reduction will be perhaps a billion dollars less. The theory behind this seems to be that a little more inflation, although not quite as much as Chairman Knutson wants, won't do us any harm. For no one can be so self-deceived as to believe that a tax cut will not certainly send the spiral of prices and wages shooting up even higher.

Related To U. S. Strength
The success of any European recovery plan is directly related to the strength of the American economy. That was the point which Baruch stressed again and again in his statement, and it cannot be repeated often enough. Another boom-and-bust cycle would render the nation powerless to extend help beyond our shores. It would create such confusion and uncertainty that the country would be impotent.

That is why it is so important to consider steps that can be taken while there is still time. Baruch proposed as a first step that farmers agree to a "major cut" in present agricultural prices in return for a guarantee that they can sell all their crops at the price set for the next three years.

This would mean a roll-back in food prices. Labor would then be asked to hold the wage line. At the same time, production would be increased, business would take smaller profits, more commodities would be imported, and the fight against inflation would move forward on a uniform point.

Does this sound like Utopia? In the midst of the present grab-bag to see who can get the most, it does. On both sides of the political fence, however, there are enough responsible men sincerely interested in checking the inflationary spiral, if only there were not others with louder voices determined to make political capital out of the desperate race between wages and prices.

Baruch asked the members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to make plain to the world what we were proposing to do. It is not just a relief plan. It is a measure to reconstruct Western Europe, and it follows therefore that the United States must guarantee Western Europe against aggression. There is little point in shoring up a part of the world vital to our security and then seeing it go down before aggressors bent on world domination.

The World and the Mud Puddles

FIVE HUNDRED THOUSAND, ENOUGH

When this ruinous government of ours reached its peak of its employment along in 1945, it was suggested casually that it would be a good idea if the federal government informed its multiplied employees in red caps, so that the people would get some idea of the vast number of parasites whom they were supporting. The suggestion, naturally, was not followed.

The Republican Congress did manage to force a cut, resulting in the government's still employing more than twenty-five hundred thousand at the expense of some six billion dollars a year.

The thing that bothers the ordinary citizen is this: What do these armies of employees do to earn their pay? What are the peace-time activities of the federal government which could legitimately require the services of more than two and one-half million men and women, on substantial salaries, when the pre-war payrolls were less than one-fifth of the present number?

What do they do? What do they contribute to the peace-time life of the people who pay their salaries? Why couldn't we get along just as happily and prosperously with one-fourth or one-fifth of them? These are questions to which taxpayers should demand an unequivocal answer.

This unequivocal answer will probably be given to Henry Wallace next November and in 1949 the taxpayer may have some relief. It is to be hoped that the taxpayer will have some relief at the hands of a Republican Congress and a Republican President.

They Say

WASHINGTON — Republican Chairman Reece charging President Truman with an "infamous alliance" with radical elements: "Obviously, his (state of the union) address was an attempt to reconcile the Moscow wing of the Democrat party, symbolized by Henry Wallace, with the Pendergast wing."

TOKYO — A high American official discussing Japan's expanding population as a threat to world peace: "I know the Japanese made their population problem an unpopular one . . . because they are so accomplished in the fine art of combining the truth and the lie."

DETROIT — Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., describing Henry Wallace's third party venture: "I feel that Wallace is being misled, misguided and misused. Rather than contributing to the advancement of progressive and liberal points of view, he will, in the long run, retard them."

HOLLYWOOD — Starlet Linda Christian, an associate of Film Star Tyrone Power, explaining her migration difficulties on her return from Mexico: "I needed just one more little paper with my picture on it and I simply didn't have it, that's all."

Hints On Etiquette

A girl who is dancing is not supposed to refuse if another man "cuts in," but if you are the man and the girl and her partner are good dancers, be sure you also come in that category. Moral: learn to dance well before you attend a ball.

The colored population of South Africa is increasing at a faster rate than the white population.

Hidden Reefs In Aid Program

(By Holmes Alexander)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 21.—There is a hidden reef which may roughen the hitherto smooth passage through Congress of the European Recovery Program. It is the reef of suspicion raised by the incredible cocksureness of Administration spokesmen: Day by day, witness by witness, the testimony of Cabinet members and departmental experts sound more and more like the singing of a well-trained choir.

Too Obviously Arranged

This is unfortunate because it seems to be too obviously prearranged. It was to be expected that the President's advisers would agree in principle and present a united front. But the undeviating agreement in detail is what raises suspicion. After all, here is the most complex problem ever handled by an American government. The arrangements involve the economic partnership of the United States and 16 other nations in the use of at least 17 billion dollars over a four-year period which, we are told, may end in an atomic war with Russia. There is no precedent to guide our pioneering efforts. There is no promise that even success will succeed in this case. We all know that ERP is a calculated risk. The majority of Congress and most of the country is willing to take it.

Careful Consideration In Order

But careful consideration of ways and means is certainly in order. Somewhere in this vast undertaking there must be room for doubts and reservations even among men who are in favor of the big effort. But it is hard to believe this while listening to the Administration spokesmen. Down to the last decimal point, down to the last unqualified recommendation, the Ambassador to Great Britain, the Secretaries and statisticians of State, Treasury, Defense, Army, Agriculture, Interior and Commerce have been in mathematical and rapturous accord. If all these witnesses are correct, ERP is not only a masterpiece of foreign policy but the greatest thing that ever happened to the American taxpayer, soldier, farmer, manufacturer, laborer, banker, miner and housewife.

Beginning To Wonder

Congressional committee members are beginning to wonder if all this isn't too good to be true. Yesterday I heard one of them ask plaintively: "Even if we admit it's a calculated risk, isn't it possible that there are some mistakes in the calculations?" Administration spokesmen seem to regard such a possibility as non-existent and to assume that only a reason behind the Administration fast-talk, it may be an over-zealous effort to cover up any connections between ERP and the rest of the President's program. So long as ERP is kept on a high, bipartisan level it can claim the support of nearly every Republican leader of consequence. But this support becomes uncertain if it ever appears that ERP is dependent upon Mr. Truman's power politics policy in the Mediterranean or his efforts to establish price and commodity controls over American economy.

Indicates Growing Suspicion

Yet the hard-to-swallow glibness of Administration spokesmen is suggesting just this set of tie-ups. During the past few days the line of questioning by Republican committee members indicates a growing suspicion. Secretary Krug, for instance, was going strong when he was asked what would happen to ERP if Middle East petroleum became unavailable. The Secretary was disposed to pooch-pooch such a possibility. If there is a reason behind the Administration fast-talk, it may be an over-zealous effort to cover up any connections between ERP and the rest of the President's program. So long as ERP is kept on a high, bipartisan level it can claim the support of nearly every Republican leader of consequence. But this support becomes uncertain if it ever appears that ERP is dependent upon Mr. Truman's power politics policy in the Mediterranean or his efforts to establish price and commodity controls over American economy.

Another sharp question was asked of Ambassador Douglas, the presumptive administrator of ERP. Would not the export of surplus goods inevitably raise prices at home? Mr. Douglas would not say "inevitably." He tried "possibly" and finally settled for "probably." If ERP ties in with the President's efforts to establish price controls, the Administration ought to say so.

By and large, the testimony before Congress on ERP has been factual, informative and persuasive. But it needs to be tempered with more frankness and less guile. The country as well as Congress deserves that much consideration. (Distributed by McNaught Syndicate, Inc.)

LEAP YEAR

This is leap year, and so
Girls are free to propose—
A fact that I know
Every one of your turns.
Maiden fair, it's your turn
His intentions to find.
Pop the question and learn
What he has on his mind.

Has he let the months pass
Without letting you know?
'Neath his feet has the grass
Been permitted to grow?
If you've thought him to be
The most backward of men,
Say what never may he.
It is leap year again.

Oh, glorious maid,
To some slow poke incline,
Who to tell is afraid
What he has on his mind.
'Tis the one year in four
Line and hook you may cast.
Dilly-dally no more;
You may want him at last.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

The GOP meeting in Philadelphia ran out of hotel rooms and tickets. Fortunately the supply of candidates is holding out.

At the June convention each state will have four delegates-at-large. Each state now has four candidates at large.

And states that elected a Republican senator get a bonus of three delegates. I hear Taft is saying "now I can prove I'm worth three other men at the convention."

Also each state that voted Republican in 1944 gets a bonus of three delegates. The quiz question this year will be "you now have three bonus delegates . . . would you like to try for six?"

300 Democrats in the gallery on "spectators' tickets" will scream "you'll be sore!"

Jobs Upon A Time

Before Samuel Goldwyn, moving picture director, went into the movie business he was a glove manufacturer. A newcomer to the films, pretty Geneva Gray was a welder in an airplane plant, which job financed his dramatic training and led to her film debut.

In Washington some 911 individuals and organizations are duly registered as lobbyists, which works out approximately two apiece for Congressmen, or one for each lapel.—New Haven Register.

House Of Commons Sets Up $200,000 For Royal Couple

British Law Makers Pass On Second Reading Bill For Allowance, 294 To 17

By THOMAS C. WATSON
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)
LONDON, Jan. 21.—(INS)—A government bill providing a $200,000 annual allowance for Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip passed its second reading in the House of Commons Tuesday by a vote of 294 to 17.

But the passage was preceded by another debate during which Philip was told by a Laborite he could make himself much more popular by going down into a mine.

Criticism of the Princess and her husband, now the Duke of Edinburgh, came from the extreme left wing.

Would Reduce Sum
Donald Chamberlain proposed that the allowance be reduced to $20,000 each for personal expenses, with all other disbursements certified and paid for by the government.

Laborite Emrys Hughes suggested Philip try his hand at mining. He also claimed the Duke of Windsor would have been happier had he been compelled to live on $60,000 a year. Laborite James McGovern insisted that Commons be given powers to penetrate the "iron curtain" surrounding the Buckingham Palace retinue.

The bill now goes to committee. Earlier Prime Minister Attlee denied any British intention to sponsor an international conference among the leaders of Allied Nations at the present.

Timber Workers Striking Again

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 21.—(INS)—A coal mine in nearby Washington county was closed today as a result of a strike by 11,000 timber workers who supply the tri-state district with mine timber. Some 600 miners of the Hillman Coal & Coke company's Tyldale mine refused to report for the afternoon shift yesterday when they claimed the firm was using non-union mine posts and timbers.

The striking timber workers are members of the United Construction Workers, an affiliate of the United Mine Workers. They struck Jan. 3 for a 28½ cent wage increase, which was granted by the timber operators contingent upon their getting a 20 per cent increase in the price of mine timber from the coal operators.

SCALES
There are several different kinds of scales. Fish have a good supply of them.

Weighing machines are the kind of scales which fat people should use.

Obesity or overweight is a very undesirable condition.

Fat people are very likely to have trouble.

Obesity is usually preventable.

When the scales say that the weight is getting too much, that is the time to get busy.

Pounds and ounces are used to measure weight. Calories are used to measure nourishment.

People who tend to obesity should learn about calories. They can regulate their eating so that they will not get too heavy.

They will be able to measure their food by calories just as well as by pounds or quarts.

PEANUTS
The peanut is a funny fellow. He is a vegetable or root but he is called a nut.

He has nothing to do with cows but he is called butter. He is a popular fellow just the same.

Butch likes peanuts and so does Granddad.

Sis likes peanut butter sandwiches.

Peanuts provide protein and fat and starch. They have a lot of vitamin too. They taste good and smell good, so what more could a person ask?

It is perhaps better to eat them pretty soon after they are roasted.

The flavor is good and perhaps some of the vitamins are fresher.

Then look out for the shells and the paper bag. They don't look well when scattered around.

MAYORS' SALARIES
WASHINGTON, D. C.—(INS)—

Mayors in the nation's 13 biggest cities are being paid an average of $17,260 a year to head their municipal governments.

This fact is revealed in a survey of mayors' pay and powers just completed by the American Municipal Association.

The mayors of Detroit and New York are each paid $25,000—highest mayor's salaries in the U. S.

Runners-up are San Francisco and Boston with mayor's salaries of $20,000.

Among the 23 cities in the 250,000 to 500,000 population group, mayors are paid an average $7,167 a year.

Employment Figures For Last November Set All-Time High

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21.—(INS)—

The State Department of Labor and Industry today reported employment in Pennsylvania soared to an all-time high in mid-November, 1947.

Workers totaled 3,621,900, according to a survey made in co-operation with the U. S. Bureau of Labor Statistics. Farm workers were not included in the survey.

Increase Over 1946
The figures represented a gain of 16,100 over the preceding month and an increase of 86,400 over November, 1946, the department said.

Employment in manufacturing industries was estimated at 1,536,700 workers, the highest since May, 1945, when 1,529,100 persons were employed.

Non-manufacturing industries had highest employment during the month with 2,085,200 persons on payrolls—an increase of 71,500 workers over a similar month in 1946.

Television Station Permit Requests Swamping Bureau

WASHINGTON, Jan. 21.—(INS)—

The Federal Communications Commission is experiencing a peculiar situation today—it is being snowed with an unprecedented demand for television station permits.

But FCC officials say the curious part about the upsurge in television applications is that probably the best way of losing money is in "video."

Two Requests Daily
It's a sure bet, they say, that for the first months, possibly longer, a person will operate at a loss. He might even windup putting more into the deal than what he could hope to get out of it.

Curtis Plummer, FCC television expert, reports that since last Thanksgiving day, the government has been asked to approve applications which have been coming in at the average rate of two a day.

Plummer said its first time a steady flow of applications over such a period has ever happened at FCC.

Peels Sac From Heart Of Youth, Saving His Life

CINCINNATI, Jan. 21.—(INS)—

Sixteen-year-old Richard Haizman of Cincinnati was believed well on the way to recovery Tuesday after a young surgeon peeled from his heart a sac that was slowly squeezing life from the boy.

The 34-year-old surgeon, who refused to allow his name to be published, said the youth was admitted to the hospital last Dec. 28, suffering from inflammation of the pericardium, which the doctor said "causes a sac to enclose the heart, squeezing the vital organ so that blood is unable to get through the great vein."

The pericardium is a membrane that encloses the heart. Its inflammation causes the formation of another sac, which the surgeon removed.

Mother Grateful
Richard's grateful mother, Mrs. Lucille Haizman of Hamilton, who revealed details of the operation, said her son is expected to be able to leave the hospital within two weeks.

The surgeon, who was a chest specialist at Walter Reed General hospital in Washington during the war, estimated about 350 persons in the United States have undergone such an operation.

The people of mountain-ringed Tibet live alone and like it. After losing some of its prized isolation during the war, the mysterious land on Asia's "roof of the world" is reported ready to close its borders once again. This perennial recluse among the nations is about ten times the size of Pennsylvania.

Term "Practitioner" Defined By State

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21.—(INS)—

The state justice department has ruled that osteopaths, druggists, therapists, dentists and chiropractors shall be included under the term "practitioner."

The ruling was contained in an interpretation of the phrase "physician or other practitioner" for the department of public instruction.

Superintendent of Public Instruction Francis B. Haas had requested an interpretation to clarify an amendment to the school code which requires school districts to pay full salary to professional employees incapacitated by illness who furnishes a certificate from "a physician or other practitioner."

In another opinion, the justice department ruled that properly licensed nursing homes and private hospitals "may accept non-psychotic alcoholic patients and drug addicts."

HIGHWAY OASIS
ST. GEORGE, Utah.—(INS)—

The state of Utah is going to create a modern oasis for the heat-weary traveler reaching southern Utah from the west. The Department of Publicity and Industrial Development recently announced intentions of piping water to a desolate spot along U. S. Highway 91 near St. George. At times in summer months, the border-spot temperatures reach as high as 120 degrees, and heavy trucks and autos often are stalled from engine overheating.

WHAT IS MANAGEMENT?

ORGANIZING

FINANCING

DIRECTING

MANAGEMENT, in the telephone business, is essentially a word. It defines the duties and responsibilities of telephone men and telephone women who have shown by their abilities that they can undertake them.

Those who supervise the organizing, planning, financing, and directing of this business, in other words, are simply telephone employees at various stages in their careers.

That's the way things are done in the telephone business. Any employee who shows the qualities of leadership will find that those qualities are bound to be recognized.

This opportunity for advancement is a natural incentive to good work, but it is also your assurance of good telephone service at low cost. For the telephone business is complex, and the special skills and arts that are required to run it are learned only on the firing line of experience.

Tomorrow's leaders in this business are today working with and under the direction of yesterday's employees.

Dr. Galbreath Tells Lions Club About Palestine

First Presbyterian Church Reports Experience in Holy Land Several Years Back

Lions Club members had the privilege of hearing Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, speak on Palestine at their noon luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday.

Dr. Galbreath's talk was along similar lines to that given two weeks ago before the Rotary Club. Dr. Galbreath did not touch on the political situation in Palestine, but rather confined his remarks to a description of the country and some of the customs.

People Are Alike
He stated that he was convinced by his visit that people are much the same the world over, and was surprised at the kindness and courtesy of the people in that part of the world, many having gone out of their way to do favors for him, knowing that they would never see him again, and were under no obligation to be nice.

Jerusalem, he stated, has been destroyed no less than 17 times during its history, and the rubble on which the present city has been built lies to a depth of 70 feet. The buildings are all of stone, and the streets are of cobble stone, rather rough hewn at that.

Recently mentioned as the possible subject of attack is the Arab church of the Dome of the Rock, which is said to be built on the very stone which Abraham was going to use as an altar for the sacrifice of his son Isaac, and where later the Jews made their sacrifices.

He also told of his visit to Bethlehem and Nazareth, and stated that a visit to the scenes, mentioned in Holy scripture, gives a sense of reality to the Bible, which is not found in any other way.

Visitors included Rev. H. A. Silvia, president of the Volant Lions club; Rev. J. J. Harmon, formerly of Plain Grove; Walter C. Case, of Erie; George L. Wolford, of Butler; and Rev. Ralph E. Hovencamp, of this city.

NYU WINS 12TH, DEFEAT COLGATE

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(INS)—New York university continued as the "tween" leader of the nation's basketball field today by reason of its 12th straight victory last night in a wild 64-59 game with Colgate. But the 18,146 gallery left Madison Square Garden obsessed by doubt of NYU's real timber, notably after final tabulations were assembled. These showed Colgate outscoring the supposed wonder-five from the floor by 24 goals to 21, while restricting the celebrated Don Forman to nine points all evening.

About 2,500 species of lizards are known today.

Graham Candidate For Re-Election To Seat In Congress

Makes Formal Announcement Of Candidacy For Republican Nomination

LOUIS E. GRAHAM

To the Citizens of the District: Herewith I submit to you my announcement for nomination to the House of Representatives on the Republican ticket at the Primary Election to be held on Tuesday, April 27, 1948.

During the first session of the 80th Congress the following is my record:

I did not miss a single roll-call and I voted on every measure submitted to our consideration.

I was appointed chairman of Subcommittee No. 3 of the Committee on the Judiciary, and also a member of the Subcommittee on Immigration and Naturalization. Both are important posts. The first requires the handling of all legislation relating to the several courts of the United States; the second, the disposition of one of the most difficult problems now confronting us.

On a number of occasions I have been chosen by the speaker, Hon. Joseph W. Martin, to preside over the sessions of the House during the passage of important legislation.

I was named as a director of Columbia Institution for the Deaf (Gallaudet College).

The performance of the above duties require legal training, legislative and parliamentary knowledge and experience in public life. Now, as never before, experience is necessary.

As a Republican I have upheld the policies and principles of my party at all times.

I have voted for every measure benefiting the veterans.

I have conscientiously tried to the best of my ability to serve every citizen of the district as promptly and efficiently as I possibly could.

I respectfully ask for your help, support and vote in the coming primaries.

LOUIS E. GRAHAM

Dr. Thomas Uber Speaks To Wolves

'Neuralgia' Is Subject Of Speaker
At Tuesday Evening Dinner Meeting

Dr. Thomas R. Uber, local neurologist, spoke on "Neuralgia," and its effects on the human body, Tuesday evening at the Wolves club dinner-meeting held at The Castleton.

Dr. Uber spoke of the modern cures of neuralgia, and in reference mentioned his various experiences with patients at the Cleveland Clinic. Today the modern cures enable patients to have almost immediate relief. An interesting fact to note that the mortality rate caused by neuralgia had reached as high as 50 per cent, but the modern medical cures have reduced the rate to 3 per cent.

Dr. Uber's talk was well-received, and in addition to his professional talk he also mentioned many humorous experiences he had as a major in the U. S. army, when he served in the European area. Dr. Uber took part in the Battle of the Bulge.

President Nicholas Casalandra presided at the meeting. A motion was made to investigate local traffic hazards and a committee, A. N. Carbone, Joseph Frenzel and N. Casalandra, will return their reports, and this in turn will be handed to the local traffic committee of the city in an effort to assist in diminishing traffic hazards.

Bowling was enjoyed after the meeting, and the meeting adjourned until Tuesday, February 3.

Court House Half Mill Raise Seen In Budget

Budget As Tentatively Prepared For County Shows
Some Close Figuring

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

In the tentative budget which has been prepared by County Controller Andrew M. Dodds a half mill increase in the tax levy is used to show the estimated revenues for the year. The half mill is added on to the present 3 1/2 mills for general purposes and with the one mill for institutional purposes would make the total 4 1/2 mills instead of 4 1/4 as at present.

The tentative figures show estimated receipts for the general fund at $359,485, with $197,022.10 balance with which to start the year. With some incidental receipts estimated, the total estimated revenue is shown at $556,507.10. The estimated expenditures are shown at $552,515.10, slightly more than the receipts. The county commissioners are working on the budget to bring it into balance.

For the institutional department the balance at the beginning of the year is $82,882.91. Total estimated receipts are $158,126.66, with total estimated expenditures shown as $116,086, leaving an estimated balance of $41,440.66.

Today's Question About Campaign

(No. 3 In A Series)
Q. Doesn't my hospital insurance take care of my responsibility in the hospital campaign?

A. No. An insurance plan cannot extend its benefits unless a hospital bed is there for you when you need it. Insurance plans provide money to be applied on cost of service only, and do not provide for buildings and equipment to make that service possible. In other words, hospital insurance is useless unless you can get into a hospital.

Lawrence County Farm, Home News

By Extension Representative, Lewis C. Dayton, Agricultural Agent, Youngstown, Ohio

SEEDLING PLANTS NEED LOAMY SOIL

Plants in hotbeds and coldframes require well-drained soil which has been raised in the frames enough to permit it to dry out to a depth of four inches.

Frames placed on low, wet ground, or hard soil will not produce strong plants. Roots of vegetable plants started under glass require very little water. If the soil where the frames are located is naturally wet in the spring, a new location should be found in advance of the spring seed sowing. Or, if no other place is available the situation can be improved by raising the ground level in the frame about six inches above the normal level. This will provide better drainage in the frames.

FEED EWES SILAGE AND SAVE ON GRAIN

Good corn silage and legume hay will carry ewes until a few weeks before lambing, permitting a saving in grain. Grain is not only high in price but also urgently needed for conversion into relief foodstuffs.

Silage may be fed at the rate of 1 1/2 to 2 pounds per day. Two precautions are to avoid feeding frozen silage or any which is moldy.

Fresh water and salt are equally important parts of the diet, and ewes need to have both available at all times if they are to produce a strong, thrifty lamb crop next spring.

Another good management practice for the sheep man or shepherd is a phenothiazine drench for control of internal parasites. This helps keep the ewes in healthy condition and saves on food.

Thorough culling of the breeding flock also contributes to efficient management and to a saving of grain. For that reason flock owners are taking advantage of prevailing prices by taking unprofitable animals to the butcher.

KEEP ACCIDENTS FROM HAPPENING IN HOMES

Accidents have no respect for youth or age. Accidents can happen in any house and in any room in the house.

How many times have folks let an accident hazard go unheeded thinking "It won't happen to me. I'm careful." Then the sad hour arrives, maybe someone was in a hurry on a cold morning and the fire didn't start. Someone poured kerosene over hot coals and ashes or poured the oil over paper and kindling. A match was touched to it. Yes, it has been done many times before and no harm was done, but there is always a first time everything.

Porch floors ready to break through and rickety doorsteps are other hazards. Perhaps usable, but Johnny sees the school bus coming and dashes through the door onto the porch. A board gives way and Johnny doesn't get the bus for many weeks.

Injuries to limb and life far exceed the cost and time for removing accident hazards. It takes only a minute to pick up stray buttons and pins that the small child likes to get hold of. A safety razor blade, a pair of scissors, a sharp knife and broken glass are just as dangerous as the loose board on the porch.

Throw rugs, stairs without handrails, toys scattered on the floor, poorly lighted stairways, extension cords on the floor and pieces of furniture obstructing the line of traffic are common accident hazards that cause many falls. Many hazards such as these may easily be eliminated without too much time and energy.

Plastic Contact Lens Are Latest

SOUTHBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 21.—An unbreakable, lighter and more comfortable plastic contact lens, invisible spectacle that rides on the eyeball, has been developed by American Optical Company at Southbridge, Mass.

The company said Monday the development represents the work of hundreds of persons over a ten-year period. The company said a manufacturing center has been established in Detroit, Mich., to serve the United States and Canada.

Contact lenses, according to the optical company, are thin, saucer shaped shells which fit under the eyelids and are worn on the eyeballs.

Some of the first watches were of globular form and called "Nuremberg eggs," after the German city of their manufacture.

MAHONINGTOWN CLUB VIEWS MOVIE FILM

Mahoningtown Garden club met Tuesday evening in the home of Mrs. Earl L. Hushie, 705 North Cedar street, for its January program.

In answer to roll call members named "Berries for Mid-Winter Cheer".

As the program highlight, William E. Waltz Jr. showed his reels of colored movie film of the Boy Scout jamboree in France last summer. He took movies of the jamboree from the time the scouts sailed until they returned to this country and as he showed the film he gave accompanying explanations that added to the interest.

Mrs. W. E. Horner, who recently returned from California, gave an informal account of her trip and showed a number of stones, including samples of various quarries gathered in the vicinity of Garnet mountain. To contrast with the rough stones she showed some of the same ones cut and polished. Of particular interest, too, was her account of the bird sanctuary on Catalina Island.

Each member read a poem appropriate to the month of January. Attractive program booklets for the year were distributed by Mrs. William Leicht, chairman of the program committee.

During business, several projects for the coming year were discussed.

Mrs. Kenneth C. Walters and Mrs. Leicht assisted the hostess in serving refreshments.

Next meeting will be February 17 in the home of Mrs. W. E. Horner, 112 West Madison avenue.

The group of nearly 100 girls is housed at a camp on Lake Ganssmond and the speaker told of her experiences as one of the supervisors in charge.

How Fast Do You React To Danger As Driver Of Auto?

Tests On Driverometer Reveal Your Rating: Tests In Interest Of Safe Driving

How fast can you "brake" if you see a car flash red tail lights and stop in front of your car?

How long does it require you to "brake" when a red traffic signal looms suddenly in front of you?

And how long does it take for you to "stamp on the brake" when a girl steps out of the left door of her car in front of your machine?

You can learn this out by taking a test on the "Driverometer," brought here by The News, Mc Bride & Shannon and Penn Power company.

It is located in the display room of the power company, Public Square. The test is free.

Time Of Tests
Of seven tests taken by a New Castle News reporter, he was timed in:

Five-eighths of a second, one second, seven-eighths of a second, one second, three-fourths of a second, one second and seven-eighths of a second.

No, he didn't "run down" any one, nor did he crash into the car ahead, and when the "gal" stepped out on the left side of her car, he hopped onto the brake, pronto.

These scenes are shown on a motion picture screen, and the mechanism in the Driverometer records the reaction to danger time.

Don't go to the Driverometer station expecting to be tricked because no tricks are employed. It is all straight safe effort, the machine having been brought here to help eliminate accidents and fatalities.

And don't be "a-skared" of the highway patrolmen because they are in uniform. They're very courteous, instructive and take time to explain to anyone who asks how the "gadget" operates.

Just walk in, sit down, step upon the accelerator, and the test is on. It takes only a minute, and you receive a report of "your reaction to danger" immediately.

You can be tested at a mileage anywhere from 20 to 80.

Around Hollywood

By JOHN TODD

International News Service Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 21.—(INS)—Ever glamorous Marlene Dietrich is giving Hollywood the new look in her old gowns.

Yes, folks, for her role as a German cabaret singer in Paramount's "A Foreign Affair," she's using the three evening dresses she wore during the years she spent abroad entertaining American troops.

She was attired in a white sequin affair when I talked to her. It was so long the only glimpse I had of her famous legs was when she lifted the hem, barely ankle high, to show how it had been repeatedly darned.

Lives In Present
The particular gown was one she wore when she entertained the soldiers at Nizko.

Marlene still lives in the present. She knows she's going to Paris to make a picture after she completes her Paramount assignment. "After that I don't know," she said.

3 Unions Block Labor Peace—Refuse Wage Boost Already Accepted by 19 Other Railroad Unions!

The Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen and the Switchmen's Union of North America, representing 125,000 railroad employees, have refused to accept the offer of the Railroads of a wage increase of 15 1/2 cents an hour.

This is the same increase awarded 1,000,000 non-operating employees by an arbitration board early in September, 1947.

This is the same increase accepted by 175,000 conductors, trainmen and switchmen by agreement on November 14, 1947.

Agreements have been made with 1,175,000 employees, represented by nineteen unions. But these three unions, representing only 125,000 men, are trying to get more. They are demanding also many new working rules not embraced in the settlement with the conductors and trainmen.

Incidentally, the Switchmen's Union of North America represents only about 7 per cent of all railroad switchmen, the other 93 per cent being represented by the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and covered by the settlement with that union.

Strike Threat

The leaders of these three unions spread a strike ballot while negotiations were still in progress. This is not a secret vote but is taken by union leaders and votes are signed by the employees in the presence of union representatives.

When direct negotiations failed, the leaders of these three unions refused to join the railroads in asking the National Mediation Board to attempt to settle the dispute, but the Board took jurisdiction at the request of the carriers and has been earnestly attempting since November 24, 1947, to bring about a settlement. The Board on January 15, 1948, announced its inability to reach a mediation settlement. The leaders of the unions rejected the request of the Mediation Board to arbitrate. The railroads accepted.

What Now?

The Unions having refused to arbitrate, the Railway Labor Act provides for the appointment of a fact-finding board by the President.

The railroads feel it is due shippers, passengers, employees, stockholders, and the general public to know that throughout these negotiations and in mediation, they have not only exerted every effort to reach a fair and reasonable settlement, but they have also met every requirement of the Railway Labor Act respecting the negotiation, mediation, and arbitration of labor disputes.

It seems unthinkable that these three unions, representing less than 10 per cent of railroad employees, and those among the highest paid, can successfully maintain the threat of a paralyzing strike against the interest of the entire country—and against 90 per cent of their fellow employees.

The threat of a strike cannot justify granting more favorable conditions to 125,000 employees than have already been put in effect for 1,175,000, nor will it alter the opposition of the railroads to unwarranted wage increases or to changes in working rules which are not justified.

A glance at the box shows what employees represented by the Engineers and Firemen make. They are among the highest paid in the ranks of labor in the United States, if not the highest.

Compare these wages with what you make!

Here is a comparison of average annual earnings of railroad employees and firemen for 1939 (prewar) and 1947. Also shown is what 1947 earnings would have been if the 15 1/2 cents per hour increase, offered by the railroads and rejected by the union leaders, had been in effect throughout the entire year 1947.	Type of Employee	1939 Average Annual Earnings	1947 Average Annual Earnings	1947 Average Annual Earnings Had 15 1/2 Cents per Hour Added
ENGINEERS	Road Freight (Local and Way)	$3,966	$6,126	$6,757
	Road Passenger	3,632	5,399	6,025
	Road Freight (Through)	3,147	4,684	5,169

IN THE OPEN

The January nightfall found the valley shrouded in the frosty haze which portends zero readings. An expectant hush possessed the countryside as the wild folk in the thickets prepared to do homage to the Frost King. By midnight the skies had cleared to a hard brilliance which set the Dog Star blazing while the relentless cold closed in. At dawn the mercury had plunged to five below, and every window in the valley bore the bold signature of the artist who works in ice.

The countryman rolled out onto a cold floor and spent a hurried half hour building fires. A quick look from the back porch revealed business as usual over the back fences. As the morning advanced the sun took advantage of a cloudless sky and zero birds flitted cheerfully about the business of picking up breakfast as though it were mid-July.

Well wrapped and booted against the cold and the clean three-inch snowfall, the countryman sallied forth with a broom to sweep clear the garage driveway. This commotion scared up a flock of feeding pheasants, who took off from the side yard and planned to greater privacy in a neighboring stubble-field.

Dropped Sarcastic Remarks
A patrolling crow took observations from a safe height and flew back to his base, dropping a few sarcastic remarks over his shoulder. Everything would have been all right if a flight of sparrow-sized birds hadn't flown across high overhead, gossiping in bird language completely foreign to Old Neb Nose. These fellows looked almost white in the sunlight. They stopped in the trees on the steep hillside just across the wide stream behind the house.

The countryman dropped his area where he had "marked down" the unknown birds.

Good "Lean-To"

A convenient fence post made a good "lean-to". Comfortably at ease against this support the countryman stood quietly on the sunny hillside until the clamor aroused by his appearance died down. Soon the feathered folk resumed their active feeding. A whole convention of cardinals was in session, with more than a dozen of the brilliant males in the entourage.

The usual January complement of chickadees, titmice, juncos and tree sparrows wandered by, while a song sparrow or two stayed close by the creekside tangles. Once or twice the strange call note came down from somewhere in the trees, but the hunter had nary a glimpse of the unknown quarry. After a half hour the chill began to tell and the countryman gave up the quest as a dry run.

A quick skidding descent through the trees brought him once again to the railroad tracks. The snow story revealed where other trespassers had used this road bed. Cotton-tails, exploring the countryside, had come out of the thickets, hopped leisurely along by the rails for a rod or two, and then turned back to the bramble patches.

Arriving at the creekside without mishap, the countryman negotiated a re-crossing at the wide shallow curve. This time the right boot shipped a handful of water. Snow-covered rim ice close under the bank had furnished a hunting roadway for a prowling fox. Apparently this debonair huntsman had been crippled, for the tracks plainly revealed a dragging hind foot.

A rather unusual Winter visitor (flew up the valley one recent noon hour. It was a lone herring gull, surely identified by the dark wing tips and the easy, graceful flight pattern. This fellow was probably heading for some of the large reservoirs further up the valley, and was no doubt A.W.O.L. from the gull colonies along Lake Erie. SASSY FRASS.

The father of William Cowper, English poet, was a clergyman. The poet was born in the rectory in 1731. He died in 1800. His best known poem (at least in the humorist vein) is "John Gilpin."

'Canes Spank Sharon, 50-46; Remain In Title Chase

Locals Maintain Hot Pace Entire Contest

Douglas Five Regains Old Fire In Tense Struggle With Bengals; Janacone-Black Lead Scoring; Sharon's Foul Shooting Big Factor.

New Castle High basketball team may not win the Section Three title this year, but for sheer determination and courage, the Bill Douglas coached "kids" have what it takes. An over-confident Sharon High Tiger quintet found this out last night at Washington gym, before 1,200 fans, as the locals played their best game of the current season to dump the Bengals, 50 to 46 in the also ran class.

It was a typical New Castle-Sharon fight all the way. Never more than a few points separating the two quintets as they raced back and forth and traded field goals for field goals. It was Sharon's third defeat in the section, and you just don't drop three and still belong in the select circle.

New Castle In Fight
New Castle is still in the race, with only two setbacks, and two wins, thanks to young Jimmy Janacone, Wayne Gray and Don Black, being the spark with a fine exhibition of ball handling and basket making. Janacone broke loose in the final seconds to "really ice it."

Don Reed played a fine game at center before getting the old heavy Jimmy Janacone in the fourth period, for five personals. He added six points during his stay in the battle.

Sharon was ahead but once in the game, 1 to 0 as Stevie Gary made a foul right off the bat. Reed put New Castle ahead 3 to 1 with a field goal and the Douglas coached machine stayed there. Sharon got awfully close near the end of the third period at 32 to 31, but the locals turned on the "heat" again.

Take Big Lead
It was New Castle by a big margin in the first period, 10 to 4 the score read at the end of the stanza. New Castle at one point had a 6 to 1 lead, and again led 10 to 3.

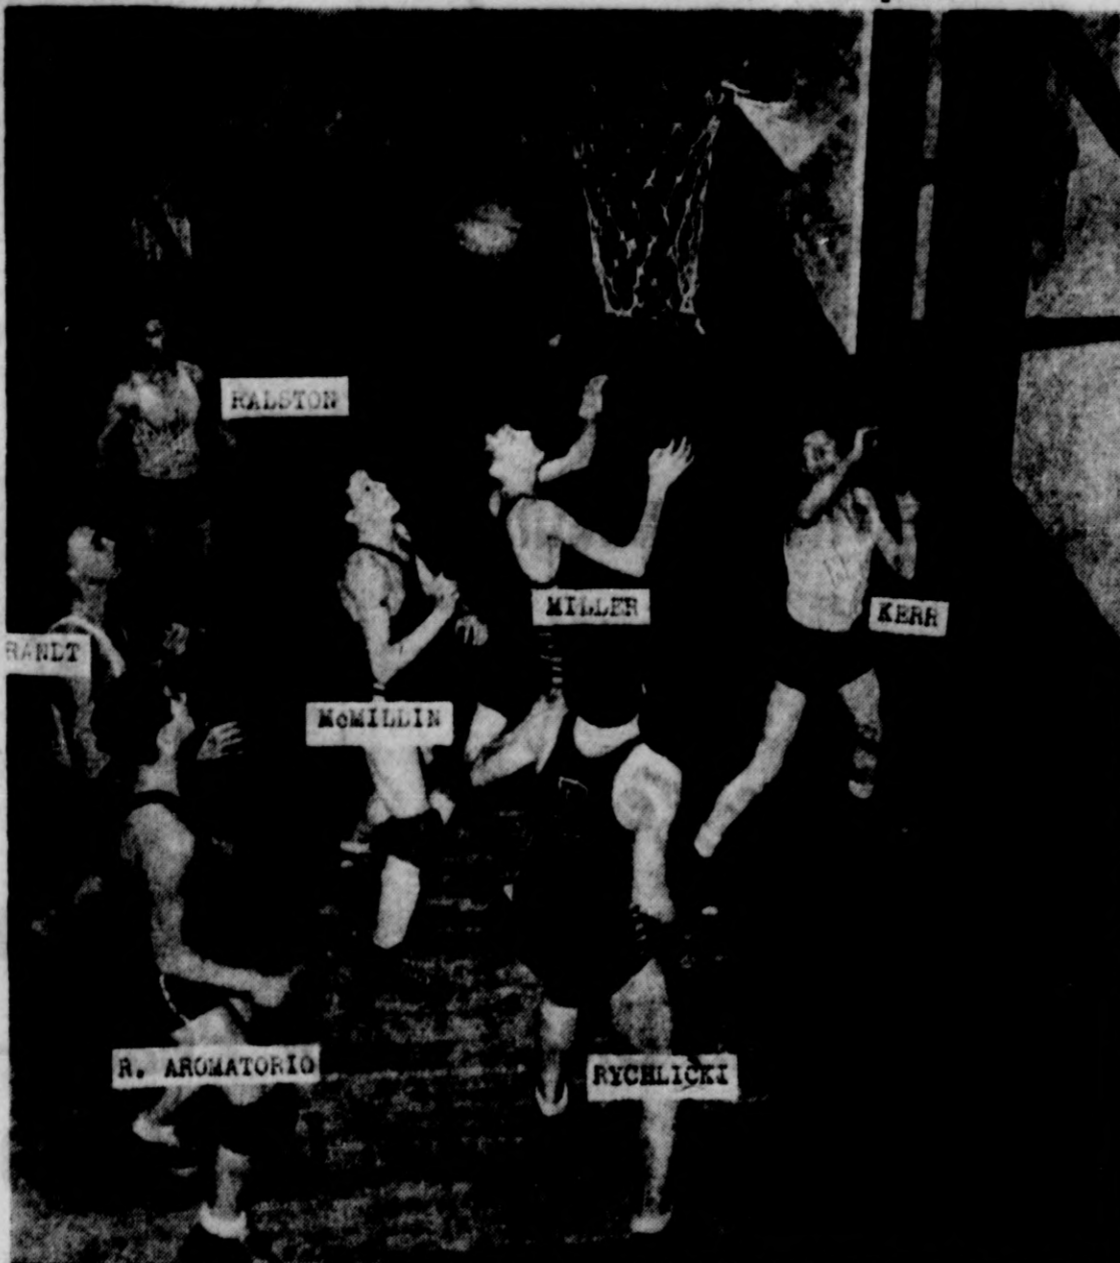

Sharon never quite got over that first quarter score, although they did make a race of it the second period, outscoring New Castle 15 to 12, to trail, at halftime 23 to 19.

East Brook Tops New Wilmington
The third period turned out to be a exciting session, all the way. New Castle kept in front by several points until just before the finish of the heat, with 2 1/2 minutes left, New Castle led 30 to 27. With a minute left New Castle was in front 32 to 29. The stanza closed at 33 to 31.

With the fourth period about half gone, Sharon lost Stevie Gary on personals and it was at this time that young Don Reed got chased. Before it was over Sharon also lost Beard on fouls.

Midway in the fourth heat it was New Castle in front 44 to 39. With three minutes left it was 46-

Braatz' Goals Whip Princeton

Shenango Sub Gets Two Quickies To Keep Wildcat Hopes Alive, 43-42

Two last minute field goals by Johnny Braatz gave Shenango a 43-42 verdict over a fighting Princeton high five last night at the Wildcats' court in a Section 23 thriller.

The Nahas lads, off their game and trailing at the end of the first stanza, 16-10, and the third period, 34-24, managed to close the gap in the wind-up frame and rob Princeton of its first league win.

The Hetra men "got hot" early in the game, dashing to a 17-3 first period lead when they cashed six out of eight field goal tosses. The halftime count was 29-16.

Wampum Spurts To Beat Jackson

Indians Overcome Deficit In Last Three Minutes To Win, 43-39

MT. JACKSON, Jan. 21.—Trailing 39-38 with three minutes remaining on the clock, Wampum high school Indians punched in five points to win out, 43-39 in a white-hot battle here last night against the "Mounties."

The victory left the Butler Henon lads deadlocked for first place with Bessemer and Shenango who also posted victories last night. The loss relegated Mt. Jackson into a tie with New Wilmington for second place.

The Redskins got off to a rocket start, racking up a 19-6 lead in the first quarter before the Webster boys could get their bearings, and enjoyed a 27-14 gap at the intermission.

However in the third canto the home team came surging back in a spirited drive to trail only 33-25 at the close of the period. The "Mounties" then saw their efforts push them in front with time a big factor but the section champs were not to be denied and turned back the challenge.

Friday night Wampum meets another stern test when they enter tangle Bessemer. Mt. Jackson goes to East Brook.

McKeever May Coach

Moneyed Group To Buy Chicago Rockets Soon

By CHARLES EINHORN
(International News Service Staff Writer)

CHICAGO, Jan. 21.—Purchase of the Chicago Rockets' All-American Football Conference franchise by Chicago investment broker R. Edward Garn and a group of moneyed associates will be announced on or before Feb. 1.

The name of a coach for the team, in strongest probability Ed McKeever of the University of San Francisco, will be disclosed at that time, as will the names of several influential backers and, quite possibly, those of several well-known players who will be in the Rocket fold for the 1948 campaign.

The name of Johnny Lujack, it appears, will be among the missing. Garn, made the Notre Dame All-American, a highly attractive offer ten days ago, including a long term contract.

Lujack thanked Garn and said he would get in touch with him. He didn't, and Garn, apparently believing a subsequently published report that the Irish quarterback had signed with the rival Chicago Bears at $18,000 a year for 3 years, said yesterday he had all but given up hope of getting Lujack. He did add that his offer was better than that reported to come from the Bears.

Hasn't Signed
Actually, Lujack has not signed with the Bears. He and Bear owner George Halas had a long talk last night, their third within the last week or so, but Halas' offer, which differs from the recently published figure, both in amount and duration still had a few kinks.

Halas said he and Lujack will confer again in Chicago later this week, and he is confident of getting the ace Notre Damer.

Meanwhile Soldier Field has been retained by Garn and company as site for their team's 1948 operations. The Chicago entry in the A. A. F. C. will take advantage of the late major league baseball close, which will affect the rival Chicago Cardinals and Bears who play in ball parks, by staging as many home league games at Soldier Field as is practicable during the month of September.

Garn, who had minority dealings with the Rockets as a member of the ill-starred 1947 management, realizes that the team which flopped in 1946, changed owners, and flopped again in 1947, has two strikes against it.

But he is convinced that able management and good football can make the Rocket franchise pay. He is considered capable of providing the former, and apparently he has the money to secure the latter.

GRADE SCHOOL RESULTS

Two games were played in the Catholic Grade School League last night at the Catholic Center.

In the first game St. John's defeated St. Michael's 41 to 14 and in the second St. Lucy's outclassed SS Phillips and James, 58-2, with Carbone tallying 25 markers.

Friday St. Mary's meets St. John's and St. Michael's is paired with SS Phillips and James.

TAKING ORDERS FOR BOX SEATS AT M-A GAMES

Reservations For Entire 63-Game Home Card Being Sold At Bronze Co.

New Castle baseball fans interested in obtaining box seats for the 63 home games of the Middle-Atlantic club being transferred here this summer, can either phone 6100 or write the Johnson Bronze Advertising Department, and place their orders, it was announced today.

An effort is being made to secure a mailing list, for an advanced sale of tickets, and first come first served will be the order of selling the choice seats.

An effort is being made by the Johnson Bronze Employees Association to have about 4,000 seats at Flaherty Field this summer.

Plan Strong Team

The season opens here Friday May 7 with Butler Yankees appearing at Flaherty Field, for a three-game stand, 7, 8 and ending Sunday May 9. The New Castle club will start training in April, Business Manager George Smith, said while in New Castle a week or so ago.

"We intend to put a strong team on the field at New Castle this summer, as we have practically the same team that finished second for us at Niagara Falls last year," Smith stated.

"We have bought several new players and traded a few and are going to give New Castle fans the kind of baseball they want," was Smith's optimistic outlook.

Bessemer Edges Union 46 To 40

Cementers Stay Tied With Wampum And Shenango By Victory, Gennaro-Peterson Stars

Forced to come from behind in the third period, after trailing the first and second periods, the Bessemer Cementers remained in a three-way tie with Wampum and Shenango for first place by dropping Union 46 to 40 at the Union court last night in a Section 23 game.

Union led 10 to 9 the first period and at halftime 20 to 18. The third period ended all even at 30-30. Bessemer's stretch drive led by "Tony" Gennaro, Glass and Anderson turned the tide. Union wilted in the dying minutes of the game. Bessemer shot fouls like they knew how, 14 out of 19, while Union had but 4 out of 12. Union is still without a Section 23 victory, having dropped five straight.

Lineup:
Bessemer: G. F. P. Union, G. F. P. Anderson, G. F. P. Gennaro, G. F. P. Peterson, G. F. P. Glass, G. F. P. Stanley.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

CRAVING need of the Pittsburgh Pirates this year is pitching, and adequate catching—glaring weaknesses of the 1947 campaign. . . Chief Machinist's Mate Steve Bond of the local navy recruiting station, a keen student of the game since early youth, and one-time minor league performer, thinks Bob Cheneau and his battery mate, Fitzgerald, up from Coast league, will brighten the picture. Bond was stationed on the coast for some time and watched this highly touted duo work many games. He has this to say: "Cheneau will surprise a lot of major leaguers this year with his stuff. He's big and strong and has a blazing fast ball, plus enough other pitches to get him by this year. He fields his position as well as any hurler I ever saw and he is inaster of the situation at all times—refusing to get ruffled with men on the sacks. Fitzgerald? He's a real workhorse with a whip-like arm and is handy with the stick. I would say he is better than any catcher the Pirates had in uniform last year. Barring injuries I would be willing to bet Cheneau racks up about 15 wins this year and if Gregg and Lombardi come through for Meyer, the pitching headgear will be dislodged. With hitters like Kiner, Hopp and Walker knocking in runs, these three boys should win plenty of games." According to word from Greenville, Red Landfried will represent that town in the Pittsburgh Golden Gloves tournament. He has won 13 straight bouts as a middleweight. Johnny Pia, ex-Jolly Bowl fighter, is his tutor. . . Leo Matriciani of Baltimore has signed for an exhibition bout with Joe Louis, February 9, and will meet Jimmy Bivins of Cleveland, Jan. 26.

The 1947 small game kill, based on state game commission field officers' estimates, included 1,829,800 cottontail rabbits (1946—1,551,800); 658,800 squirrels (1946—770,800); 3,750 wild turkeys (1946—2,500); 220,800 ringneck pheasants (1946—213,400); 91,900 raccoons (1946—114,700); 29,900 ruffed grouse (1946—Closed); 8,400 bobwhite quail (1946—8,200); 96 Hungarian partridges (1946—108); 20,260 woodcocks (1946—17,000); 35,900 waterfowl (1946—28,700); 4,000 shorebirds (1946—3,500); 6,900 mourning doves (1946—2,700); and 234,000 woodchucks (1946—228,300). The bag of wild turkeys was the largest since 1942 when 3,936 were taken. Establishment of a six-year kill record highlighted the 1947 bear season. A total of 534 bruins were bagged, according to incomplete tabulations of individual reports filed by successful hunters. Previous kill records included 325 in 1946; 366 in 1945; 295 in 1944; 307 in 1943; and 149 in 1942.

Report Giants Sign Up Conerly At Record Price

Club Is Silent But Branch Rickey Says Star Will Be in N. Y. Uniform

By DAVIS J. WALSH

(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—It's supposed to be strictly top-secret, but the New York (football) Giants have already come to terms with Mississippi's fabled Charlie Conerly at a price said to be the highest in the history of pro football. However, it wasn't the New York Giants who said so.

They've been content so far to go along with last night's news release, announcing that they had taken title to the National Football League draft rights on Conerly in a trade with Washington.

But Branch Rickey, of Brooklyn, is a man of infinite talent and proved it today by being able to state authoritatively from the vicinity of Ebbets Field that Conerly will play at the Polo Grounds in 1948. Also to confirm, at least tacitly, the high-finance features of the dicker. These left small doubt about one thing:

That Conerly, the swifl-hippy from Mississippi, stands to make an estimated $40,000 for his first season with the Giants. The estimate isn't excessive.

It can't be—in view of the fact that Rickey, as a holder of the All American conference draft privileges on the player, is understood to have banished $25,000 in front of the young man as a mere bonus for signing with the football Dodgers.

That's how Mr. Rickey got to know so definitely that Conerly is packaged for fall delivery at the Polo Grounds.

Conerly told him so.

MORDECAI BROWN ILL.
TERRE HAUTE, Ind., Jan. 21.—(INS)—Mordecai (Three-finger) Brown, one time baseball notable, is reported seriously ill at his home in Terre Haute, Ind., today.

Mrs. Brown, wife of the former Chicago Cubs' pitcher, said that her husband has been confined to his bed for the last seven weeks and that for the last few days has failed to show any improvement.

He has been in poor health since he suffered a stroke three years ago.

State VFW Backs Military Training

State Veterans Of Foreign Wars
Will Urge Congress Pass
Measure Now

HARRISBURG, Jan. 21.—(INS)—The Pennsylvania Veterans of Foreign Wars—largest VFW unit in the nation—planned an "all-out drive" to have congress enact universal military training.

State Commander Frank C. Hilton said the Pennsylvania department's newly-formed legislative committee, headed by Cong. James E. Van Zandt of Altoona, will meet at Washington with Pennsylvania congressmen to discuss "ways and means of securing immediate passage" of a universal military training measure. No date was set for their meeting.

"Distasteful though the thought may be of compulsory military training, these (VFW) veterans recognize that military preparedness is a 'must' for the future welfare of this country," Hilton asserted.

The action will be taken to "budge congress from its unpreparedness lethargy," he added.

The Lincoln Highway, connecting New York and San Francisco, is 3,364 miles long.

Says Next Hundred Days Important In History Of Mankind

BOSTON, Jan. 21.—(INS)—A warning that the next hundred days may be the most important in the history of mankind has been sounded by U. S. Senator J. Howard McGrath, of Rhode Island, chairman of the Democratic national committee.

Sen. McGrath, speaking a testimonial dinner for Jackson J. Holtz, state commander of the Jewish War Veterans, declared:

"If we fail in the congress during the next 100 days to vote the assistance necessary to preserve the free way of life for all the peoples of the earth, we will have failed the trust placed in us by the American people."

He told 750 people at the dinner that "nothing else matters in American politics save that the peace we crave for be realized."

The senator failed to deliver an expected blast against the Republican-controlled congress.

Italian Girl Whose Fiance Died, Will Stay Single Awhile

NEW YORK, Jan. 21.—(INS)—Maria Formicola, the 21-year-old Italian girl who learned upon arriving in New York that the ex-soldier she came here to marry was dead, has decided to stay single for awhile.

Miss Formicola said she has returned to Frank Alfidi, a navy veteran, the engagement ring he persuaded her to accept while she was being detained on Ellis Island.

Relatives said Miss Formicola had accepted the ring only because she was upset by the shock of learning James McIntosh, of Guernsey, Ky., her fiance, had died in an auto accident.

At that time she faced immediate return to Italy. Now she hopes to obtain an extension of her visitor's permit. She has received scores of proposals by mail, some from as far west as California.
